Resource Royalties

1. Canada will identify annually, for the benefit of the Deh Cho First Nations, an amount equal to a percentage of federal resource royalties collected from the Mackenzie Valley in the previous year based on the formula found in Appendix B.
2. Prior to the effective date of a Deh Cho Final Agreement, each amount identified annually, less the amount paid to the Deh Cho First Nations for economic development purposes under 6, will be adjusted by multiplying the amount by the value of the Canada Final Domestic Demand Implicit Price Index (FDDIPI) for the latest quarter available for which FDDIPI has been published by Statistics Canada, and by dividing the resulting product by the annual value of FDDIPI for the year in which the amount was identified. The sum of these adjusted amounts will be paid out in accordance with a schedule to be negotiated as part of the Deh Cho Final Agreement.

3. The amount identified for the year in which this Agreement is signed shall be prorated in relation to the number of days remaining in the calendar year of which the Agreement is signed.
4. For greater certainty, the amount identified under 1 for the final year this agreement is in effect will be based on the amount of federal resource royalties collected from the Mackenzie Valley in the previous year, and the number of years for which an amount is identified will equal the number of years in which this agreement is in effect.

Economic Development

5. The Deh Cho First Nations may access a percentage of the sum identified in 1 for any year, on an annual basis, for the purpose of supporting economic development opportunities in the Deh Cho territory.
6. The percentage in 5 shall not exceed 50 percent of the sum identified in 1 for any year, unless agreed to by the Parties.
7. Any sum disbursed under 5 which exceeds 50 percent of the sum identified in 1 for any year shall be deducted from the eligible amount in the following year.
8. Any sum disbursed under 5 shall not exceed one million dollars in any given year.
9. By agreement of the Parties, the Deh Cho First Nations may access the total of any amounts not disbursed in previous years under 5.
10. Any amount disbursed in 5 and 9 will be project specific, consistent with the guidelines for economic development initiatives attached as Appendix C.
11. The parties may use mediation to resolve any disputes under 5 and 9 regarding the application of the guidelines in Appendix C. The cost of a mediator will be born equally by both parties.

Oil / Gas Exploration and Consultations

12. The Parties share the objective that new issuance cycles for oil and gas exploration licences under the Canada Petroleum Resources Act will be initiated in the Deh Cho territory in a predictable manner while this Agreement is in force.

13. Pursuant to 12, the Parties agree that the first issuance cycle will be initiated within one year of the date of the signing of this Agreement, and that each subsequent issuance cycle will be initiated within two year intervals, measured from the date of the instrument indicating Deh Cho First Nation(s) support for the previous issuance cycle.
14. Before an issuance cycle is initiated, the Parties agree to pursue consultations under section 41 of the Deh Cho First Nations Interim Measures Agreement, on such matters as the terms and conditions of the issuance.
15. The affected Deh Cho First Nation(s) support and agreement to initiate an issuance cycle under 12 will be demonstrated by a Deh Cho First Nations Leadership Resolution.
16. Community-based oil and gas advisory group(s) may be established to advise the affected Deh Cho First Nation(s) regarding the consultations under section 41 of the Interim Measures Agreement.

Mining

17. The Parties agree to work together, and with representatives of the mining industry, to identify areas where an affected Deh Cho First Nation(s) would support new prospecting permits in the Deh Cho territory.
18. Canada will consult with the Deh Cho First Nations on any new proposed amendments to the Canada Mining Regulations.
19. Canada will not issue a new surface lease for lands within the Deh Cho territory in connection with any new major mining project that will impact on members of the Deh Cho First Nations unless the proponent of the major mining project and the affected Deh Cho First Nation(s) have entered into negotiations for the purpose of concluding an impact and benefit agreement relating to the major mining project.

Funding

20. Canada will provide the Deh Cho First Nations with $150,000 per year to be included in the Support to the Deh Cho First Nations section of the Deh Cho First Nations Interim Measures Agreement.

  - c) a breach of a term of the Agreement; or,
  - d) the commencement of litigation related to subject matters under this agreement asserting Aboriginal rights or title or treaty rights to land and resources.

Where a decision to terminate Deh Cho Process negotiations or this Agreement has been made by any party or where this Agreement is to be terminated prior to the effective date of a Deh Cho Final Agreement, 90 days notice will be provided and the Parties shall consult prior to the termination date. This Agreement will terminate on the 90th day following the date of notice, unless otherwise agreed by the Parties.
23. 24. This Agreement does not constitute a treaty or land claim agreement for the purpose of s. 35 of the Constitution Act, 1982.
25. This agreement is made without prejudice to any legal position taken by the Parties in a legal proceeding and nothing in the Agreement shall be construed as an admission of fact or liability.
26. This Agreement will not result in a change in the constitutional status or property rights to the lands and resources of the Deh Cho territory.
27. No monies referred to in this Agreement are to be considered "Indian monies" as that term is defined in the Indian Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. I-5.
28. The Parties may review this Agreement after the signing of the Deh Cho Agreement-in-Principle.

29. Any resource revenues being generated in the Deh Cho territory will form part of Agreement-in-Principle/Final Agreement negotiations as outlined in the Deh Cho First Nations Framework Agreement. Any such negotiations would be without prejudice to the Parties' respective positions regarding rights or entitlement to such revenues.
30. This Agreement may be amended at any time by agreement of the Parties.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT GUIDELINES FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT INITIATIVES PURSUANT TO THE DEH CHO FIRST NATIONS INTERIM RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT

Introduction

Canada and the Deh Cho First Nations share the objective of maximizing the economic development opportunities that will arise from new resource development activity resulting from this Agreement. In order to meet this objective, the Parties also agree that the Deh Cho First Nations may access funds as outlined in this Agreement for the purpose of supporting economic development opportunities in the Deh Cho territory.

The purpose of these guidelines is to provide:

- an outline of a process for the transfer and administration of the funds;
- an outline of the considerations to be given when assessing the merits of various economic development initiatives; and,
- the Deh Cho First Nations with the flexibility to address the needs and aspirations of its member First Nations while meeting the requirements of Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development's (DIAND's) program authorities.

Guidelines

The Deh Cho First Nations may enter into a contribution agreement, annually, with the DIAND. The contribution agreement will outline the specific objectives, deliverables and audit requirements necessary in the transfer and administration of funds pursuant to this Interim Resource Development Agreement.

It is the intention of the Parties that the Deh Cho First Nations will establish an economic development body which will be involved in the management and administration and delivery of economic development funds under this Agreement.

The economic development body may financially assist Deh Cho First Nation(s) communities, individuals and companies to enhance employment and business benefits from resource-based opportunities.

APPENDIX C

Partnerships between Deh Cho First Nation(s) communities, individuals and companies, the private sector and government are key tools in achieving progress on a wide range of challenges including:

- improved access to capital;
- skill development and increased experience;
- increased participation in resource development;
- increased market access; and
- an improved economic infrastructure.

In order to meet these challenges, consideration may be given to proposals which are aimed at the following services (activities):

- Planning
  - technical assessment
  - opportunity assessment
  - feasibility studies
- Equity Support
  - equity contribution
  - infrastructure
- Negotiations
  - benefit agreement
  - joint venture

Nothing in this Agreement prevents the Deh Cho First Nations or its economic development body from securing other sources of funds nor does it prejudice Deh Cho First Nation(s) from accessing other federal programs subject to the terms and conditions of those programs.

Eligibility Criteria

Applicants are required to submit proposals in writing and to fulfil a number of eligibility criteria, including, but not limited to, the following:

- a) satisfactory management capacity;
- b) the intended impact on the client group or community;
- c) compliance with the program objectives; and
- d) proposed results that are achievable within the given time frame.

APPENDIX C

For most proposals, applicants may demonstrate these requirements as part of an overall business plan. These business plans should provide a detailed outline of the history, management, operations, marketing and financial aspects of the business. The plan should demonstrate why the applicant requires an economic development contribution and how this contribution will make it a viable, ongoing business venture that would not likely go ahead in the absence of support. The business plan should be the basis for preparing the project approval documents.

Business plans typically contain the following information:

- name of applicant (e.g., community or business);
- history/background of the applicant;
- business sector and location;
- business description, structure and personnel, including
  - business structure and ownership,
  - organization, management, key personnel and labour force, and
  - administration, financial records and systems;
- markets/marketing plan;
- competition;
- production (if applicable);
- historical and projected financial statements;
- working capital;
- training requirements;
- job creation (jobs maintained and created, and the impact on social assistance);
- project costs (source and application of funds);
- facilities and equipment;
- loan security (if applicable);
- other significant information (e.g., environmental screening and assessment, contingencies, potential impediments);
- related activities; and
- the impact of the project on the community (e.g. revenue generation, long-term jobs, role models, provision of services and effects on local economy).
