Resolution 98-May 29 #003

Whereas the Deh Cho First Nations held a winter leadership meeting in January 1998 on the Hay River Reserve and met with the Dogrib Treaty #11 leadership to identify the work that is required to establish a boundary between the two First Nations;

And Whereas, the work began immediately as a result of an agreement reached by the four affected Deh Co Communities (Fort Providence, Fort Simpson, Jean Marie River and Wrigley) and the Dogribs in Hay River in January, in accordance with the Boundary motion;

And Whereas, the decision to complete the work by March 31, 1998 has expired with NO final agreement on the boundary;

And Whereas, a report has been submitted to the leaderships for their consideration and discussion;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Deh Cho First Nations leadership extends the deadline on the boundary talks to July 31, 1998.

And be it further resolved that the Deh Cho First Nations Grand Chief and the Boundary Co-ordinator will meet the Dogrib Grand Chief and their Boundary co-ordinator at the earliest possible date, to discuss ways to reach a final settlement on the boundary.

And finally be it resolved that the Deh Cho Elder's position on the boundary be used as a guideline to reach a final boundary agreement.
